Palazzo

Set in the heart of Balzan's historic core within a UCA area, this unique 18th-century corner Palazzo effortlessly blends timeless character with refined modern living. The standout façade features a rare Baroque/Rococo open stone corner balcony, supported by seven intricately sculpted corbels, an architectural gem rarely seen today. The property also holds historical value, having once been home to the Spanish knight Fra Giacomo Rodrigues.

Meticulously restored and designed by one of Malta's renowned architectural firms, the palazzo retains its authentic features while incorporating elegant finishes, including travertine flooring and marble bathrooms throughout.

Spread over three levels, the layout includes a welcoming entrance hall, a ground-floor bedroom with en-suite and separate access, a kitchenette, guest WC, and a private garden with pool. Upper levels
